

I want to express my complete disgust for what occurred at the half time show during the Super Bowl telecast on CBS television. CBS, Janet Jackson and Justin Timerlake should be severely disciplined for a tastless stunt that all was viewed by unsuspecting families all over the world. Is it any wonder why the youth of today have so much trouble understanding the word, MORALS!